Clinical Negligence Solicitor

Description

Are you an ambitious and driven Clinical Negligence Solicitor looking for a new and fulfilling career opportunity?

My client, a long established and successful specialist personal injury firm has an opening for an experienced and career minded Solicitor to hit the ground running and undertake a varied caseload of claimant clinical negligence matters.

Responsibilities

As you would expect, this role involves managing the claim from initial vetting through to successful conclusion.

Using Proclaim case management system, there would be administrative support to assist in the running of the files.

The main aim is to get the best possible outcome for the client and as such a high proportion of the matters will be litigated.

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have the ability to hit the ground running as there is a ready-made caseload just waiting for you.

It is anticipated that the role requires someone with a minimum of 3 years PQE in a similar claimant role.

Job Benefits

In return you can expect a salary which is negotiable, ongoing professional development, paralegal support and hybrid working.
